

YOUR FAMILY IS PAYING TOO MUCH FOR AUTO INSURANCE

$360 too much

Florida's no-fault law is no fair.

Floridians deserve the lowest auto insurance premiums possible. Recent rate filings prove Florida families are paying too much for no-fault auto insurance. A fault-based system means lower rates and more choice. Fault-based insurance means an average annual savings of $360 to Florida families.

Florida's unfair no-fault provision requires most drivers to carry double medical coverage and pay for medical bills in accidents that aren't their fault. Riddled with legal loopholes, incentives for staged accidents, lawsuits, over-billing and fraud, abuse of no-fault has driven our auto insurance rates sky high.

Tell your State Legislator to save Florida families, including yours, an average of $360 every year by supporting a less expensive fault-based system that holds drivers responsible for injuries they cause.
